Part III DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

1. Claim 11 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Walmsley (6,498,656).

With regard to claim 11, Mastie et al teaches a print distribution system (e.g. fig. 1) comprising: an association information holding unit that holds association information, the association information being adapted to associate information of a distribution destination with information of a printing apparatus (e.g. col. 2, lines 53-65 and col. 5, lines 45-67); a print setting management unit (6) that manages settings of a print condition (or attribute) of the printing apparatus, the print setting management unit (6) adapted to locate the printing apparatus based on the association information (feature or attribute) and set the print condition when a request to print out printed data is outputted to the distribution from a sender (e.g. col. 2, lines 53-65 and col. 5, lines 45-67), wherein the information of the distribution destination has information of a user who uses the printing apparatus associated by the association information holding unit (see figs 1-3).

Conclusion

2. Claims 1-10 and 12 are allowed. In contrast, according to the subject matter recited in independent claims 1, 10 and 12, the prior art of record fails to teach or suggest an a print distribution system (in combination with other features in the claims) an holding unit that holds in advance information indicating correspondences between plural distribution destinations and plural printing apparatuses used in the plural printing apparatuses, and wherein, when a request to print out the printed data is outputted to the plural distribution destination from a sender, the print setting management unit, on the basis of information held in the associating holding unit, locates plural printing apparatuses used in the plural distribution destinations specified by the sender, as recited by the independent claims.

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Wanda et al. (Wanda et al.) teaches an information processing apparatus distributed printing method and storage medium.

Leong et al. (6,687,018) teaches a system and method for distributing print jobs.
